ROME PUBLIC DEVELOPMENT BANKS STATEMENT ON FINANCING WATER AND SANITATION IN ORDER TO REACH WATER-RELATED SDGS AND FOSTER ADAPTATION TO CLIMATE CHANGE AND BIODIVERSITY PROTECTION

We, Public Development Banks (PDBs) and Associations of PDBs engaged within a Water Finance Coalition and gathered in Rome in the context of the second edition of the Finance in Common Summit, acknowledge that PDBs have a crucial role to play in enhancing financing for water and sanitation, in order to reach water-related SDGs as well as foster adaptation to climate change and biodiversity protection.

We are saddened by scientific evidence in particular Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change's (IPCC) scientific evidence and 6th Assessment Report that shows that the greatest risks of global warming relate to water, as well as by the fact that billions of people are still lacking safely managed access to water and sanitation – a departure from achieving United Nations (UN) Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 6— and with major impacts on livelihood, health, biodiversity and gender equality. Moreover, the covid-19 pandemic has given us a brutal reminder of the criticality of such basic services.

We position our engagement in support of the Human Right to safe water and sanitation, the Sustainable Development Goals, the United Nations Water action decade for 2018-2028, the Paris Agreement on climate change, the future post-2020 Global Biodiversity Framework to be adopted at COP15, the Addis Ababa Action Agenda on Financing for Development, the PDB Social Investment Coalition and the Finance in Common initiative. The Finance in Common initiative aims at recognizing and incentivizing all Public Development Banks (PDBs) in the world to act together as a system and unleash their full potential in the current crisis, with the objective of increasing investments consistent with the sustainable development goals (SDGs) and the implementation of the Paris Agreement, to strengthen the means of implementation and revitalize the global partnership for sustainable development.

We confirm the crucial role of PDBs, whether National, Regional, Multilateral Development Bank or Development Finance Institution, in the achievement of the water-related Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), especially SDG 6 “Ensure availability and sustainable management of water and sanitation for all”, as well as in contributing to climate change goals and biodiversity protection.

We call all PDBs, national and local governments, international development partners as well as all stakeholders to strengthen dialogue and collaboration to mobilize and promote public and private financing for water and sanitation. It requires the following main actions and implies the goals listed below: to improve financial and economic regulations, identify ways to strengthen PDBs mandates; mainstream water-related issues in PDBs strategies, especially as a way to fulfill human development and climate change adaptation and mitigation objectives; foster PDBs' best practices and expertise in the water sector; increase PDBs water sector range of financial tools; and address inefficiencies of the water and sanitation sector to support investments.

We are gathering regularly within a Water Finance Coalition following a Call for action launched jointly by Agence Française de Développement (AFD), Development Bank of Latin America (CAF), European Investment Bank (EIB), World Bank (WB) and Sanitation and Water for All (SWA) in the framework of the Finance in Common Summit of November 2020. This coalition is an opportunity to build knowledge and share good practices in order to facilitate increased involvement of PDBs in water and sanitation issues.

We consider the 2021 Finance in Common Summit, the Glasgow COP 26, the Dakar World Water Forum and UN Conference on the Water Action Decade to be held respectively in 2021, 2022 and 2023 as important milestones for our collective effort to enhance access to water and sanitation for all and decisive steps to increase our collaboration.
